

leadership styles

Two of the main leadership styles are democratic and autocratic, these leadership styles are very different but are both very efficient. Democratic leadership is more than just one person that is making the decisions and what ever the majority wants they will win over the others. Autocratic leadership is when there is one individual that is the leader and no one else has a say or an impact on the leader. Both of the leadership styles are great but for different situations. For example democratic is better for a business because they can see what will make the majority of the business workers happy. Autocratic is better for a nurse or a doctor because if someone is badly hurt then they don't really have a lot of time to think about what to do that is why it is good to have one leader in that situation. Over all both of the leadership styles work but they need to be done in different situations to both be successful and work to the fullest.
